CANDY WITHOUT SUGAR DAY—SAN FRANCISCANS ENTRAIN FOR CAMP LEWIS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—This is "Candy Without Sugar" day in California. Originally it was just plain Candy Day, but State Food Director Merritt wrote to the California Candy Dealers' Association pointing out that it was equally necessary to save sugar, along with beef and pork and wheat and dairy products. He suggested that Candy Day be turned into a day for the exploitation of candy made from honey, maple sugar, molasses or something besides cane or beet sugar. The Candy Dealers' Association took up the idea, and today they are doing their best. Incidentally a sharp change in prices of cane sugar candies and radical alterations in the varieties offered for sale are predicted.

KENTLAND, Cal., Oct. 6.—Hundreds gathered beneath the trees of the William Kent estate here today for the annual grape festival of the Presbyterian orphanage and farm of San Anselmo. An elaborate program, which included fancy diving and comic swimming by a prominent San Francisco society matron appearing as Madame Yvonne, was carried out. All arrangements were made so that should showers interrupt the sunshine at any moment, the festival could be moved bodily into the beautiful Kent home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—One thousand and five more San Franciscans entrain tomorrow for Camp Lewis, Wash., to become members of Uncle Sam's Liberty army. They represent the 40 per cent third quota of eight of the city's thirteen districts. The other five districts entrain Monday, sending 566 men.

MONTEREY, Cal., Oct. 6.—The baseball teams of the Alameda and Santa Barbara Elks' lodges mixed it on the diamond here today to decide the championship of the state Elks' League. The game was the feature of today's session of the annual Elks' reunion. The Alameda Elks have cleaned up the northern California Elks' lodges and the Santa Barbara team has done the same in the south. A trophy cup given by Dr. Ralph Hagan of Los Angeles is at stake and to give the game a real official touch President Baum of the Pacific Coast League is on hand to watch proceedings and one of his pet umpires is presiding.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The University of Santa Clara football team will go out to Fort Mason tomorrow to meet the footballers from the Second California Infantry. It will be the second game of the Santa Clara season.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The success of California's Liberty loan drive during the first week augured well. In the first three days San Francisco alone subscribed over $6,000,000, and while reports from other parts of the state were incomplete, they indicated proportionately similar results. Many county organizations now are running full blast, and by the first of the week there will not

SOLDIERS' XMAS PARTY

Great preparations are under way for this interesting entertainment next Tuesday in Ginger Tavern, and a delightful time is promised all who attend. The giant Xmas cake was in course of construction all day yesterday under the able management of Mrs. Ginger and Mrs. Sherer. All sorts of good things are going into it and every one should make sure of a slice. On Tuesday afternoon there will be a solo from Mrs. Calvin Whitney. In the evening Patricia O'Connor, the charming young actress, will give some character songs in the costume of an Irish colleen, and will also sing by special request the famous "Woman's Recruiting Song," that was sung all over London during the first year of the great war. Mr. Francis Henry and Dr. Harrower, well known favorites in Glendale, will give solos, and Corporal Bryson will tell a few of his experiences at the fighting front in France. Dancing will be the chief feature of the evening's entertainment, and there will be no charge for admission. Refreshments, only 15 cents. Come and bring a gift for the soldier boy at the front.

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY

The first meeting for the season of the Glendale Garden Society will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1222 Milford street, next Thursday evening, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock. Officials of the society and members are urged to be present, as important discussion of winter plans will take place.

T. A. CLUB OPENING

MUSIC AND ADDRESS BY NEW PRESIDENT MARK FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The opening meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, October 9, at 2:30 p. m., will be devoted largely to President Mrs. William W. Ramsay's address, the topic being "A Piece of Plaid Cloth." After which the curators of the various study sections will outline briefly their plans for the season's work, and there will be a group of songs by Miss Priscilla Butterfield of Los Angeles. This sweet singer and her accompanist, Mrs. Adelle Knight, have been heard in Glendale before, and the announcement of their appearance on this occasion will be welcomed with pleasure. Following the program, punch will be served, affording an opportunity for a friendly handshake and better acquaintance.

The decorations for this event will be in charge of Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones and her committee, and something unusual may be expected in this direction, as this little lady always puts a vast amount of thought and sentiment into whatever she does.

CEASES TO HAVE NEWS VALUE

An announcement when published the second time ceases to have news value. Therefore, any well regulated newspaper office will make a charge for all space used in making subsequent announcements of social events and entertainments, even if there is no money consideration connected with the holding of these entertainments. The high cost of all material used in the production of a newspaper requires that business principles be adhered to, and if they are not, financial disaster will be the result.

Paper bills must be paid, help must be paid, rent must be paid, and these bills can not be paid if newspaper space is taken up by free reading notices that rightfully should be treated as advertising.

Any person who doubts the wisdom of presenting the subject of free advertising as it is above, should for several weeks place himself in a position to assume all current financial obligations connected with publishing a little daily paper, and that person will see things in a different light.

SOLDIERS AND PIES

Mrs. Nanno Woods wishes to express her cordial thanks to the many friends who helped in making Pie Day for our soldier boys such a success. To Dr. Harrower, who gave the matter wide publicity, to Mr. W. F. McElroy, who spent the whole of Thursday arranging and then bringing his laden automobile down to San Pedro; to the many bakeries, etc., who contributed pies, and to the many Glendale girls and women who sent so royally of their best homemade goodies, are due the warmest thanks. Mrs. Woods feels assured of the heartiest support two weeks from now for Cake and Cookie Day. Mr. McElroy reports an enthusiastic reception by the boys at Reservation Point of the hundred and more pies, and says that the boys desired their heartiest thanks and appreciation of the Glendale women's kindness to be expressed through the medium of the Glendale Evening News. Warmest thanks are also due Mr. Le Noir Church, genial secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who received the pies, took the names and addresses of all contributors and helped in many other invaluable ways.

AT CAMP LEWIS

CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 6.—"Get alive." If Camp Lewis has a slogan, that's it. Husky young officers from the reserve corp tell it at their squads. The men themselves use it. And it has its effect—it's putting the pep into the men. Officers of long service are surprised at the progress the rookies are making and at daily inspection find little to criticise.

Construction of 100 additional barracks, officers' quarters and outbuildings ordered by the War Department started here this week. The additional buildings were made necessary when the War Department, after starting Camp Lewis, changed the organization of the division, adding hundreds of men to it. For a time indications were that Camp Lewis was going to be woefully crowded, but the new buildings will make plenty of room for all.

About one man in each 100 sent to Camp Lewis proves to be a "conscientious objector" to war. They are assigned to the headquarters train, where they will be required to do work of a noncombatant nature.

REPORT OF ENEMY SUBMERSIBLES BLOWN UP BY AMERICAN DESTROYERS JUST MADE PUBLIC

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 6.—American destroyers have sunk a considerable number of U-boats. The first series of battles between a destroyer and an enemy submarine was made public today by the committee of Public Information. The first U-boat was sunk by a "depth charge," a bomb dropped into the sea directly over the submarine. The fourth one of these bombs destroyed the submarine, blowing it to atoms under the sea.

CONGRESS REFLECTS SPIRIT OF PEOPLE

PRESIDENT DECLARES SESSION JUST CLOSED ASSURES THAT COUNTRY WILL BE SAFEGUARDED

LA FOLLETTE DEFENDS HIMSELF IN SENATE

SAYS NEITHER THE "CLAMOR OF THE MOB NOR THE VOICE OF POWER" WILL TURN HIM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 6.—Senator La Follette made a spectacular speech in the Senate today, defending himself against the charges of sedition and treason that have been made against him. Denouncing the "campaign of libel and character assassination," he declared that "neither the clamor of the mob nor the voice of power will turn me." He assailed the "war party" for trying to intimidate Congress and the people. He made a demand for a statement of war aims.

PLAN BUSY YEAR

CERRITOS PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION HOLDS OPENING MEETING

Members of the Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher Association and their friends, who filled every available seat in the schoolhouse Friday afternoon, were delightfully entertained.

Mrs. P. S. McNutt, parliamentarian of the First district, Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, conducted the parliamentary law class in the absence of Mrs. Opal Greenwalt in a most interesting and helpful manner. Many expressions of gratitude were heard from those who attended.

A beautiful interpretative dance, "Cupid and the Butterfly," was given by two little pupils of the Pearl Keller school, Merna Kahler and Dorothy Dutton. The children, who were in costume, danced with ease and grace and executed the rather difficult steps with a decidedly professional finish. Mrs. Keller believes that dancing is as much of a necessity as is arithmetic or a knowledge of mountains and rivers, and the sooner that people understand this the sooner will dancing come into its right place in our life today. One of the greatest reasons why dancing is a necessity is because it is better than any other form of physical development because it is the only form of exercise that takes off and develops all parts of the body, and, more important still, both sides of the body at the same time. Moreover, if dancing is introduced as part of a child's education the child gains a knowledge of rhythm and music and a sense of proportion and grace that will help make for happiness through life. The child who is correctly taught how to dance learns balance and poise and does not "get in the way" or "fall over its feet." Many cases of crooked legs, turned-in toes and round shoulders have been corrected by the dance. If we bar dancing from the world we bar one of the supreme human expressions of happiness and exultation. The tiny child skips for joy and prances to the music of the hand organ long before it knows the difference between happiness and sorrow. In time of festival in many countries dancing is the keynote of the gathering. Dancing is the physical expression of music, or, as Simonides has so beautifully expressed it, "Dancing is silent poetry." Her aim is to uplift dancing and place it before the public in its proper light.

The business meeting was then called to order by the president, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, and the interesting reports of the summer programs were read by Mrs. Jennie Meagher, the secretary. Mrs. David Imler led in the salute to the flag.

Miss Hazel Small's room having the most guests, won the traveling prize.

The newspaper article which was intended to delay and separate the workers in child welfare was read and found wanting. These men and women are intensely interested, so thoroughly awake to needs and possibilities, so sympathetically and enthusiastically working to elevate our schools and make more pleasant and harmonious the paths for both pupils and teachers, with their work well in hand, we know they will be successful in all they undertake.

The membership contest will open soon, and every man and women will

THE ENTERPRISING CITIZEN

Booster Day for the Evening News which had been announced for all of next week, really began today when several ladies had their names enrolled as subscribers of the local daily paper. This boosting for the Evening News is in the hands of the friends of the paper and not the friends of the editor. It is not a personal matter, but a community question. If you believe a local daily paper aids in making a more complete community, you will be ready to use your influence to have your friends become subscribers for such a daily paper. Business men are becoming interested in Booster Week for the Evening News, and they will show expressions of approval if favoring a better patronized community paper.

INTERMEDIATE P.-T. A.

On Monday, October 8, the first regular meeting of the Intermediate P.-T. A. will be held in the school library at 3 p. m. We hope that the attendance will be large, for all mothers and friends are invited. A splendid program has been arranged and a pleasant afternoon guaranteed to all. Piano solo, Mrs. Eugene Murman; vocal solo, Mrs. Capell; reading, Miss Powers; vocal solo, Dr. H. R. Harrower.

CURRENT TOPICS

COMMUNITY CONCERT TONIGHT GLENDALE CHURCHES OPEN SUNDAY

The community concert to be held tonight at the high school auditorium will be one of the best yet. Spencer Robinson will lead the community singing and will also sing solos. Mrs. H. R. Boyer will preside at the piano. Francis J. W. Henry, known for his perfect impersonations of Harry Lauder, will be on the program, and Mrs. C. H. Toll will give an address.

GLENDALE CHURCHES OPEN TOMORROW

All the churches of Glendale will hold services at the usual hours tomorrow, except the Presbyterian church, which will dismiss its morning service to attend the Sunday meeting.

Morning services are held in accordance with the decision of the Ministerial Association of Glendale, which carries with it the approval of the executive committee of the Sunday evangelistic campaign.

All of our churches are heartily and loyally co-operating in the Sunday campaign and are working and praying for its success, and urge all our citizens to attend at every possible opportunity. Every pastor is urging his people to co-operate in every way to make Glendale a real part of the campaign.

HOUSEWARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Silva entertained on Friday evening at their new home, 628 North Louise, with an old-fashioned "housewarming." The pretty bungalow has just been completed and the invited guests joined most happily in celebrating the event. An informal evening was enjoyed with music on the graphanola and singing by Mr. A. Eddy, Mr. J. W. Silva and Mr. Lester Silva. Carnations were used for decorations and a delicious little supper was served. The out of town guests were Miss Mary De Silva and Mrs. M. Sticksel of Los Angeles.

OPEN MEETING OF LOS ANGELES WOMEN'S CITY CLUB

The Los Angeles Women's City Club will throw its doors open to the public at its meeting on Monday, October 8, at Hamburger's Fairyland theater, at 1 o'clock sharp, when Miss Ethel Moore, a member of Hoover's federal food conservation committee, will be the speaker. This is the only address Miss Moore will give in the south at this time, owing to the pressure of other engagements. Hence the executive board of the club decided to make this an open meeting in order that the women of the south might have the opportunity of hearing this brilliant speaker. The first vice president, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, will preside. It is hoped that Former Ambassador Gerard will be here on a brief speaking tour and will be able to be present and make a short address. It is hoped that every woman who is interested in war defense work will attend this meeting.

THIRD BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. C. A. Beetcher gave a very lovely little birthday party on Friday afternoon, October 5, at her home, 1456 Sycamore avenue, for her small daughter, Josephine Adele, whose third birthday anniversary occurred on that day. The decorations were in red, white and blue in honor of baby Josephine's uncle "Vallie," who is a particular favorite of hers. Sergt. Waldemar Alexander is with Battery B of the Illinois troops, stationed at Houston, Tex. About twelve little tots were present, and each received a tiny flag and little caps as favors, with surprise prizes. Each little guest had an individual birthday cake, while the center of the table held the satisfyingly large and decorative special birthday cake, with candles in red, white and blue. Even the floral decorations carried out the national colors. The little folks marched and played games, and every one, even to the sixteenth-months-old smallest guest, had a smiling and happy time throughout the afternoon.

OF COURSE WE WILL BOOST

A lady who is prominently connected with the British Ambulance Society said in reference to the Evening News booster week: "Of course we will take a pleasure in doing what we can to increase the circulation of the Evening News. The daily paper has been very kind to our society in giving valuable publicity." Similar statements have been made by representatives of other associations, clubs and churches.

TOO MUCH OF THIS GOOD THING

In the issue dated September 10 of that valuable and widely circulated publication, the Congressional Record, there is to be found by the more careful readers thereof an illustration, discouraging or amusing, according to the observer's temperament, of the way public money is sometimes spent, even in days when various public officials are vehemently urging us common people to be sternly economical in our expenditures.

On the first page of that day's Record one notes that Senator James had asked and obtained unanimous consent to have printed in full in the nation's magazine the excellent address on constitutional powers in wartime that was delivered by ex-Justice Charles E. Hughes before the American Bar association at its recent convention in Saratoga. Printed it is, as it deserved to be, and, beginning on that page, it covers over seven columns, set in the Record's small type.

Nobody would object to that, for the more people can be moved to read this admirable exposition of the government's powers for the conduct of war the better they will be equipped for answering the crafty arguments of those who want to decrease our military efficiency. On turning, however, to another page of the same issue, one finds not only that Representative Steele of Pennsylvania on the same day obtained permission to "extend his remarks" by quoting in the Record the whole of that same address, but that the thing was done to the extent of another seven columns in exact repetition of the former seven!

Common sense decides that this duplication was useless and expensive—a mere waste of money and white paper at a time when we have none too much of either. If there wasn't any way to prevent it, once the legislative machinery was set in action, then one should be at once devised—a task surely not beyond the capacity of human intelligence.—Watsonville Register.

WHY WE ARE AT WAR

Germany has forced America, as it has forced practically the entire world, to defend itself by arms. We are fighting this war because Germany made war upon us. America is a peaceful nation; we have no lust for conquest, no desire for annexation of territory; we are defending ourselves against Germany because the Imperial German government entered upon a program which meant the destruction of all American institutions.

When we finally recognized that Germany was waging war upon us we had seen more than 225 Americans, among them many women and children, killed by German submarines; hospital ships had been sunk and unfortified towns had been bombed and bombarded. Medals had been struck in honor of the sinking of the Lusitania, the murderous act by which so may of our men, women, and children lost their lives. German officials had treated the United States, a neutral nation, as an enemy. Strikes were organized in this country, plants were blown up, pro-German publications were founded and subsidized, and hatred of America was systematically sought to be inculcated among our foreign-born inhabitants. Every effort was made to involve us in trouble with Japan and Mexico. Our repeated protests were met with promises and explanations which were little better than insults.

The Imperial German government finally proclaimed the unrestricted destruction of neutral ships upon the high seas. It was the notification to the United States that our people were no longer sovereign, and that if they would sail the seas in safety we must conform to conditions laid down by a government that defied international law, humanity, and elemental morality.

A policy of terrorism has been systematically applied by the Imperial German government since the outbreak of the European war. Treaties that stood in the way of German militaristic plans have been disregarded, women and children have been treated with indescribable brutality, the noblest works of art have been destroyed, and prisoners have been abused and maltreated and civilian populations massacred and deported.

This is why America has gone into this war in defense of American honor and American rights. To have done anything else would have been to surrender our sovereignty, and we would have been forced in the end to fight a conscienceless and rapacious military autocracy—an autocracy which is in this war avowedly for indemnities, aggrandizement, and the control of the world. Our success means that our children and our children's children will be able to enjoy peace.

Buy a Liberty Bond, get behind your government, and shorten this war. This is your fight. Our men are giving their lives; you are only asked to lend your money. There should be at least one Liberty Bond in every home. There is no better test of your Americanism.—Whittier News.

HOW I AM DOING MY BIT TO HELP AMERICA WIN THE WAR

(By Vincenzo Pocino, Track Foreman Pennsylvania Railroad, Trenton, N J.)

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 6.—You want to know what I have done to help America win the war. You remember when President Wilson made an appeal to the people to help reduce the high cost of living and so create more crop to feed the allies? I apply at that time to the supervisor for an acre of land. On that acre of land I make one of the best gardens that you ever saw. I got enough potatoes to supply my family. I raise tomatoes, lettuce, beans and all kinds of greens. This garden is a great help to me and my family. Then came along the Liberty loan, and I subscribed it. Besides subscribing myself, I encouraged nearly every man in my gang who could pay for it.

I have a good gang of men and we do first class work to keep the tracks so that the trains can carry the soldiers, their ammunition and food without delay or derailment. I want to tell you also that with exception two or three all the men in my gang are naturalized. I have helped them by explaining what naturalization is.

Not very long ago here at Trenton we had a fine parade for the Red Cross, and I was very glad that I was able to contribute to it. But I want to tell you that I felt bad when they told me I was not able to go to France with the regiment of railway engineers because they had the number of men they wanted. I would have been more than happy if I could have had that chance. But if they should call for more men I am ready to go and do my little share to help American win the war.

Finally, I want to tell you, I will help in any way possible, all the time on the job and in my home.

Waiter—Yes, sir, omelettes has gone up on account of the war.

Diner—Great Scott! Are they throwing eggs at each other now?

"What was the result of the flood?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

"Mud," replied the bright youngster.

This Country Must Save Food. GLENDALE MUST HELP!

BUSINESSLIKE CLERGYMAN

The pastor of the Christian church of Glendale is a thorough believer in paid publicity. Thus believing, he has had a 5-inch double-column advertisement announcing Sunday services run in the Evening News every Saturday for the past two or three months.

MEXICAN PROHIBITIONISTS AFTER "PULQUE"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Mexico has placed a tax of 40 per cent on "pulque" for the purpose of discouraging traffic in that injurious beverage and inducing producers to make other uses of the plant from which it is made, such as the manufacture of sugar and the extraction of fiber, according to the Mexican News Bureau here.

frequently think they are beyond insuring even tho' they need it badly. This is a mistake. If they can pass the doctor's scrutiny they can nowhere find so good a proposition.

In 1890, Gen. Sam'l C. Lawrence of Boston, at age 57, took out $360,000.00, all "10 Payment Life" insurance, in 15 splendid companies. He lived 21 years, but his estate gained largely over the cost. The $30,000 which he had in "the Provident" showed a net cost of only $18,360!—the lowest of all these companies. Isn't that wonderful? Where can you find such security and real value? Further details on request.

be given a chance to do their bit two times, as membership is 25 cents.

The teachers were invited to a reception at the high school on Friday, October 19.

The speaker of the day was Prof. A. R. Oliver, mechanical drawing teacher of the high school, who spoke with convincing effect. He believes the home has a definite part to perform in co-operation with the schools in educating children. The home is recognized as having a specialized field in character building, in teaching efficiency, in service, in awakening interest in school work which will lift it above drudgery, in helping pupils to understand that the things on the inside are bigger than the things on the outside. The home may help the pupils to get self-control, to develop their own initiative, to be and to do the best. Following this thought there is the teaching of good manners, courage, courtesy, kindness, helpfulness and respect for others, the cultivation of good thoughts.

"It is interesting to note that each teacher sees the opportunity of the home to get the teacher's viewpoint upon the value of the subjects taught, and finds a place where the home can do some things to assist the pupil in the school work, to do a very important work through mutual understanding. Parents can help stimulate an interest in good books by reading together at home and forming reading habits, by discussing articles in magazines and periodicals. They can cultivate a taste for good pictures, make the pupils familiar with masterpieces of art and develop a taste for good music in some way. They should show interest in some one school activity. Parents also, by studying the text of the lesson at home with the pupils for ten or fifteen minutes, will stimulate thought and encourage exactness and accurate thinking. A child should have a place for everything and keep everything in its place. This is economy and harmony. Professor Oliver admitted he would have received many credits if they had been forthcoming for dishwashing.

He urged mothers to encourage children to assist in conducting the home, to keep the household accounts. Encouraging the children to be intelligent home-makers is co-operating with the school. Parents may help the school by planning a definite time to study, and see that it is observed. Encourage a pupil to believe he is equal to the task set before him. To help the children attain high ideals parents must themselves first perfect these ideals in their own character.

The meeting closed with a warm handshake and refreshments of a cooling nature, to meet the first Friday in November.

BE DECISIVE!

It is a rare woman who has the capacity to decide a thing swiftly and then unswervingly carry out her decision.

Knowing it is a weakness of the sex, it is strange that girls are not taught from childhood to make up their minds quickly. If they were the world would be spared numberless inefficient and ineffectual women.

The average woman really suffers in making up her mind about an important matter, and more often than not when she has got it safely made up and her family and friends are sighing with relief because the ordeal is over, it collapses in straw like confusion and they are called upon to make it up for her again.

It is not difficult to train a girl in the habit of decision, and it will be a comfort for a mother to know that if fate has decreed that her daughter must live a life bereft of the support of family and friends she can make her decision clearly, no matter by what strange paths it may lead her, and live up to it unfalteringly.

INGENIOUS

"Your wife is very ingenious."

"I should say so. It seems to me she finds a new place to hide my dress shirt studs every time."—Detroit Free Press.

A WAITING GAME

"By the way, od man, how is your suit with Miss Roxley progressing?"

"Slowly. I'm playing a waiting game just now."

"A waiting game?"

"Yes; I'm waiting for her to change her mind."—Boston Transcript.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Tomorrow is Rally Day in our Sunday school and church. This will be the first day of this character in our new church. Everything with so much religious fever in the air should conspire to add zeal and loyalty to the "children of the house of Luther," to bring them to rejoice together in one common cause and service.

Mrs. Danford, Glendale city librarian, will be present to give one of her beautiful talks to the children, while Rev. McCrea, former missionary to China, will bring a timely message to adults. Sunday school at 9:30. Rally Day program begins at 10:30 o'clock.

In the evening service at 7:30 the pastor will bring a strong message on "How the Holy Bible Fits Our Human Needs." Man or woman to whom this sacred record is only a common book, who look upon it as a bit of history only, should be present at night. All welcome.

Monday night at 7:30 promises to be a most unusual time in the Lutheran church, for not only the Lutheran people of the vicinity, but also all others who wish to become better acquainted with our great Lutheran church here on the Pacific coast. Rev. J. E. Hoick, for many years a California Lutheran missionary, will be present and give a most pleasing and interesting stereopticon talk on "Our Lutheran Work in the Golden State." There will be no admittance charge. Will be only too glad to have all our friends avail themselves of this uncommon opportunity to hear this gifted speaker enforced by his many fine pictures. All cordially welcome.

A REASONABLE REQUEST

It is the wish of the management of the Evening News that all church announcements be made without explanatory remarks and comment. Name of church, location of church, name of pastor, time of service, subject of sermon, time of Sunday school and name of superintendent should constitute the important part of the announcement. Biographical sketches and other lengthy explanations should be made under another heading, if made at all.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

be a hamlet in the state in which the Liberty loan is not being boosted. Special representatives of the federal reserve bank have opened headquarters in many cities of California, Nevada and Arizona to direct the campaign in their territories. The outstanding feature of the first week was the heavy demand for bonds by small investors. This showed that the people have been saving their money for investment in the second bond issue and have determined to get in on the ground floor so not to be disappointed when the loan is oversubscribed. Many counties reported plans for investment of public funds in Liberty bonds and several such subscriptions already have been entered.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 6.—Southern California's walnut crop amounts to $6,000,000 this year, according to the estimates of the growers. Prices ranging from 16 cents for No. 2 soft shells to 25 cents for budded walnuts with No. 1 soft shells at 20 cents, have been set.

CHICO, Cal., Oct. 6.—European trenches are not the only places where bombs are useful. Nor are the Germans the only objectives. Bombing squads now are protecting the California rice fields. Recently the ducks began their encroachments on the rice, and in the face of a state law prohibiting shooting ducks the growers were helpless. Then came along the bomb idea. Suitable bombs were prepared, the explosive used being a guarded secret. Each night and morning the grenade companies attack the ducks and never fail to "capture all objectives." In fact, after a couple of attacks, it is claimed, the birds leave for less disturbed fields.

SEBASTOPOL, Cal., Oct. 6.—Jas. R. Daly, formerly of Sebastopol and now American vice consul at La Guari, Venezuela, has made Marie Teresa Guevari, daughter of one of Venezuela's leading merchant families, his bride. News of the wedding of the Californian has been received by relatives here.

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 6.—E. Pielop, postmaster at Durrell, has been drafted. Apparently ditto the postoffice. Pielop, on being certified into the army, sought a man to succeed him in Uncle Sam's employ. But the job went begging. So when Pielop entrained for Camp Lewis he mobilized the postoffice with him, bringing the records and all of Uncle Sam's property to Fresno for storage.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 6.—Answering the plea of Miss Mary Elizabeth Easton, president of the student body, the girls of an exclusive boarding school have pledged themselves to refrain from eating candy for the remainder of the year. Maple sugar, nuts, raisins, chocolate, honey and molasses can be used to slack the hankering for sweets, but nothing containing cane or beet sugar. Miss Easton went to Washington, saw Herbert Hoover and returned with the word to the girls that they could best serve by foregoing the candy.

LET'S HOOVERIZE SHOES

The opening of school this fall emphasized to many a head of a family the increase in the price of shoes—which is by no means confined to the footgear of the youngsters. This is one of the anomalies of wartime. Since the war began the slaughter of cattle in this country and in South America has increased by more than 30,000,000 head; in the United States alone 7,000,000 more cattle have been raised in the three years since August, 1914, than in the three years previous. Submarine warfare has caused the flow of South American hides to Europe to be diverted to American ports, and imports of hides via the Pacific have also increased. Yet the price of shoes shows no sign of coming down or even of remaining stationary. Shoes are as necessary as bread, and if the price of bread can be regulated, why not the price of shoes?

GIANTS-WHITE SOX SERIES OPENS TODAY

CHICAGO, October 6.—With all the gripping interest that could be mustered from the spectacle of representatives of the nation's two greatest cities meeting in a world's series, Chicago stood expectantly today waiting the signal that would send the Giants and the White Sox into their first grapple this afternoon.

Vacant over a period of years since the Cubs last fell, Chicago's baseball heart was full to overflowing today, for it was her first world's series with New York and it was the second time an American League club had carried the Windy City's hopes to the post. Back in 1906, when George Rohe, Frank Isbell and other departed stars of the dim past were in harness for the White Sox, the team met the famous Cubs and rolled them back, winning a world's championship from Frank Chance's machine.

The White Sox are beloved in Chicago, far more than ever was the case for the Cubs. Great as they were, the former terrors of the National League didn't excite the flutter of admiration that sweeps the South Side of Chicago when the name of Charles A. Comiskey is mentioned. A real philanthropist, beloved by every one with whom he comes in contact, Comiskey has given Chicago a great baseball club—one that had fought its way through a season cluttered up with obstacles. Chicago is proud and grateful. The city will mortgage everything handy and bet it on the American League cohorts.

Hogged by the East for so long, the world's series takes on a new significance with its playing this year. The pep of the West is going in to replace the lethargy of the East. The fact that the Giants and the White Sox are considered to be more evenly matched than any other contesting world's series teams since the fall battles of 1912 between Red Sox and Giants, adds more punch to the whirlpool of sentiment and interest that is engulfing the big game.

New York remained a slight favorite in the betting, due solely to the fact that New York money predominated, despite the numerous backers of the White Sox. Critics generally are picking the White Sox to uphold the honor of the American League.

There was no possibility that attendance records would be smashed. Comiskey park holds only slightly more than 32,000 persons, seated comfortably. Throwing open the field wouldn't add any more to that total. The Polo Grounds, where the New York share of the games will be played, seats more than 35,000, but the record for a single contest is more than 42,000, established last year at Boston when the Red Sox and Dodgers were scrapping. It would be miraculous if one of the two fields could be stretched to hold more fans than this figure.

The playing of the rival infields, the work of the rival pitchers, will hold the attention of the dopesters. McGraw's trio of southpaw heavers virtually have flung the Giants into their pennant. The same may be said of Eddie Cicotte, Danforth and Williams for the White Sox. Cicotte, it was believed, was certain to start the series for Chicago, with Perritt the probable choice for the Giants, although some are inclined to look upon Benton or Schupp as McGraw's favorite.

U. S. ARMY PLANS TO TEACH MANY AVIATORS AT UNIVERSITY

That young aviators in a steady stream are to have opportunity to receive their "ground training" at the University of California, as a preliminary to winning commissions in the aviation service, has been notified to the University of California by the army. New particulars as to how to become a military aviator have just been communicated to the university by the schools division of the office of the chief signal officer.

Candidates for admission to this eight weeks "ground school" for aviation, maintained at the University of California by the aviation service should apply at the aeronautical office maintained by the U. S. army in the Santa Fe building in San Francisco.

"The flying officer is not an 'aerial chauffeur' nor an 'exhibition flyer,'" says the army announcement. "The flying officer has been more correctly defined as 'a twentieth century cavalry officer mounted on Pegasus.'"

The War Department announces that no young men will be admitted to the aviation schools who are not in every way qualified and fitted to become officers of the U. S. army. Candidates for commissions as flying officers must be between the ages of nineteen and thirty—though in exceptional cases a few older men of pronounced athletic attainments may be accepted. Candidates must be of the highest character, well educated and of good physique. They must be mentally alert, physically perfect and have well disciplined minds and bodies. While in the eight weeks course in the school of military aeronautics at the University of California, and in the flying school course which follows, they will receive $100 a month pay and 60 cents daily allowance for rations. On completing their training and passing the necessary tests they will be commissioned as reserve military aviators or junior military aviators.

The course given the young aviators at the University of California includes the necessary preliminary training in the use of machine guns, wireless telegraphy, the operation and care of aeronautical motors, the assembling and care of airplanes, the principles of aerial tactics, co-operation with other branches of the service and the fundamental principles of cross-country and general flying. On completing successfully the course in the ground school, candidates are sent for training in flying to aviation schools in various parts of the United States and abroad. Some men are able to complete the course in the flying school and qualify for a commission at the end of one month; others require longer. At the flying school instruction is continued also in machine guns, signaling, aerial tactics and other subjects.

Men who work in shops, as well as college graduates, are asking for correspondence instruction, says Dr. Nalder, to help them to use the technical and scientific discoveries which are developing modern industry. These men mostly have families to support and can not go to college, but they want to devote their spare hours to study under the direction of the university. They want practical and special knowledge, directly applicable to some problem in hand.

"It is no less the social opportunity than the duty of a state which undertakes to educate all its citizens," says Dr. Nalder, "to place within their reach the training they need and can use. New inventions, discoveries, agencies and methods are continually being developed in the interests of commerce. University extension teaching can avail itself of these instrumentalities in the interests of human welfare and efficiency. The successful accomplishment of this purpose ranks in importance with the development of the common school."
